Asked Papa To Whip Him.

(Olivia Times.)
A young lady, her cheeks flushed with indignation and her eyes flashing fire, burst in upon her parents and demanded in no uncertain terms that papa immediately go and lick a certain smart young man in this town. "Why, papa, he flirted with me! He asked, 'which way little one?' and offered to follow me. I want him whipped. Oh, if I were only a man!"
Mamma naturally got dad's hat and told him where the six-shooter lay hidden away. But papa didn't take the hint. "Daughter," he said, calling the girl to his side, "no one on this earth is more interested in you than your old dad. No one quicker to rise to your defense. But listen. This very interest has led me to study you, and this is what I have learned. You go down the street very scantily dressed. You apparently deliberately expose as much of your person as is necessary to appeal to the carnal instinct of a man. Your lovely neck, a large portion of your well developed breast, your arms and by means of a short skirt and transparent hose, a goodly share of your lower limbs are exposed to view."
"That part of your body that is at all partly covered is clothed in a way that every curve and angle is out in bold relief. Then when you pass a man or group of men, you giggle, toss your head and perhaps remark to your girl companion 'that this old town is the slowest town that you ever saw.' And then if some man challenges you, you want him shot." Moral—Don't advertise unless you are willing to deliver the goods.

KIND WORDS FOR KENTUCKY TROOPS

Had they been heralded, the soldiers from Kentucky, who paraded the streets of Mobile, would have been received by thousands. They came unannounced and only a few hundred saw them. The sight was inspiring. Heads erect, step elastic, they maneuvered through the streets with all the precision of veterans. In every movement one saw the result of training and discipline; one perceived the work of our War Department. They were well clothed in their olive drab garb, their boots were whole and good and their accoutrements up to the standard. They looked fit for gruelling service. But as the band flared into "My Old Kentucky Home," sending tingle after tingle through the veins of good American blood, one could not help but reflect: How fine, how splendid, how magnificent, and how good it is to see them whole limbed and perfect. Somehow silent praise was offered Woodrow Wilson. —Mobile, Ala., Item.

How To Cut Roses.

There is a right and wrong way to cut roses. The choice of the latter may seriously injure the blossom-producing properties of the plant. It is pointed out by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. This applies particularly, of course, to rose plants chosen and grown especially for cut-flower production. Such roses will be largely of the perpetual blooming sorts.

When a rose is cut from such plants—tea roses or other perpetual bloomers—only two or three eyes of the current season's growth of that branch should be left on the plant. This should give the roses very long stems. Succeeding blossoms should be cut close to the ground. It will seem like destroying the bush to take so much off it, but if the object is the production of roses, the cutting away of the surplus wood will attain the desired end.

If the spring pruning has not been sufficiently severe the plant is likely to have long, naked stalks and short stems to the flowers. With this character of growth only one or two strong leaf buds should be left on the branch when the flower is cut, so as to stimulate as much growth as possible from the base of the plant.

The greatest temptation to leave wood is when there are two or more buds on one branch, some being small when the terminal one is open. The temptation to follow a bad practice can be avoided by pinching off all side shoots after a bud has formed on the end of a branch. This prevents formation of two or more buds on one stalk. This summer pruning will encourage additional blooms on varieties which bloom more than once a year.

Preparedness.

Prepare yourselves for the great world, as the athletes used to do for their exercises; oil your mind and your manners, to give them the necessary suppleness and flexibility; strength alone will not do, as young people are too apt to think.—Chesterfield.

TWO BARNs DESTROYED

Buildings, Tobacco and Farming Implements Consumed in Very Few Minutes.

A large tobacco barn belonging to W. M. Crow, of the Consolation neighborhood, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The building contained about twelve or fifteen hundred sticks of tobacco and this was also consumed by the flames. Mr. Crow's loss amounts to several hundred dollars.

The same morning a barn on the Mercer place, just north of this city, which is owned by Dalton Brothers, burned. "Firing" the weed was in progress when a tier pole broke, letting several sticks of tobacco fall into the fire and the flames were soon beyond control. The building was valued at $500 and the total loss is probably $800 to $1,000. Some farming implements also burned.

New Coal Rates.

Russellville citizens are accorded the same schedule of coal rates as Hopkinsville by order of the State Railroad Commission in the complaint of T. M. Ellis, of Russellville, that an 80-cent coal rate from the West Kentucky field is too high. For distances up to twenty miles a 40-cent per ton rate is provided; up to thirty miles 50 cents; up to forty miles 60 cents, and for each additional ten miles farther the rate is increased 5 cents.

The commission investigated rates in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois and stated in the opinion that the report of their expert shows that the Hopkinsville rate is higher than the rates in those states.—Courier-Journal.

TRENCHES FOR DRAINS

Ditching Plows Will Prove of Material Assistance.

Apparatus for Digging Ditches for Tile Drainage Systems May Be Obtained at Prices Ranging From $18 to $6,000.

(From the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Some form of trenching machinery will prove a profitable investment, according to engineers in the United States department of agriculture. If the landowner has more than 100 rods of tile drain to lay in soil that will require picking but which is free from rock, ditching plows that can be purchased for $18 to $20 will prove of material assistance in such work. If as much as 1,500 rods of tile drain are to be laid the landowner will be justified in purchasing a horse-drawn plow at $250 to $300, provided the soil is free from rock and large roots. The installation of 5,000 rods of drain tile will justify the purchase of a power-driven trenching machine for $1,500, provided the machine can subsequently be sold for one-half its original cost.

The various types of trenching machines are divided, in Farmers' Bulletin 638, a new publication of the department, into four classes: (1) Plows and scoops, (2) wheel excavators, (3) endless-chain excavators, (4) scraper excavators. The plows and scoops range in price from $18 for a simple ditching plow to loosen the dirt and make hand shoveling easier, to plows costing $300 and fitted with devices for lifting out the dirt and trimming the trenches. The other three classes are usually elaborate machines costing $1,200 to $6,000, which may not be profitable investments for the average farmer who has only a small amount of draining to do. However, where there is much drainage to be done it will be well for the landowner to investigate the advisability of purchasing some trencher which has a detachable tractor. When not needed for trenching, the tractor may be easily separated from the digging apparatus and used in all the ways in which a farm tractor is ordinarily employed. Another method of securing the services of a power machine is for several landowners to combine in purchasing and using it.

Three things are required of a good trenching machine, namely: (1) It must operate efficiently through various kinds of soil; (2) It must be capable of cutting true to grade; (3) It must work for long periods without breaking or otherwise getting out of order. Probably none of the plows or scoops cuts accurately to grade, and some hand work is necessary to make the trench smooth for laying the tile properly. However, their low cost makes it profitable to employ them on work that would not justify the use of more expensive machinery.

The cost of trenching by machinery must include, besides the expense for operation and repairs, interest on the investment and proper charges for depreciation of the machine. The interest and depreciation charges are continuous; whether the machine is working or idle. The real difference in cost of trenching by machinery and by hand is not so great as it is often supposed to be, but many times there are advantages in having the work done quickly or in employing only a few men instead of a large number. The more expensive machines will be profitable if the owners can keep them busy a large part of the time.

PLOWING UNDER GREEN CROP

Greatest Benefits Derived by Applying Light Top Dressing of Yard or Stable Manure.

If you would gain the greatest benefit from plowing under a green crop give it a light top-dressing of yard or stable manure before plowing. So little as five spreader loads per acre will return a handsome dividend. Decaying manure contains great numbers of bacteria which the Missouri station finds beneficial in helping the green crop to decay and become available for the crop which is planted.

"A Life Saver"

A man was heard to remark a few days ago, "Why, my house hasn't been painted for Oh I don't know How Long." Geo. Collins, head of the house painting department of Forbes Manufacturing Co., promptly remarked, "We painted that fellows house and it was a long time ago, but it still looks all right."

Such remarks are common among those people who employ Forbes as their House Doctor. They are wise to the fact that cheap paint is the most costly in the long run. We use nothing but the best paints on the market and we don't skim over your job trying to get through and onto another piece of work. Our men are instructed to do it thoroughly and we keep a competent foreman on the job at all times to see that this instruction is carried out to the letter.

We shall take pleasure in sending right out to your house and making you an estimate on a first-class job of work guaranteeing to use nothing but the highest grade of materials and employing only skilled labor.

All we can ask is an opportunity to figure with you on that job. We will do it as reasonably as we possibly can.

But, in case we don't get the contract, you be certain to specify in your contract that either Mastic Paints or Sherwin-Williams paints are to be used and you will be assured of high grade materials. We sell only pure linseed oil and lead. The best always. We don't care to take up space and help you to throw your money to the winds by handling and selling you inferior paint materials.
